

Million Star Hotel

Oh my god another wacky adventure at the Million Star Hotel.

DAY 1

We left my work at 11am. Chris drove for half the way out here to Queen Marry Falls, I drove the rest of the way up this big steep hill, it was crazy as it was very skinny and steep with lots cows running at the car while I was driving. I was so scared, I was going to hit them but I didn't. We arrived at Queen Marry Falls at about 230pm after stoping at my dads place. Oh my god its freezing up here, cold all day and all night. Thank god I packed a lot of warm clothes. We set up the tent and got the fire going with crappy wood and started to get everything out for dinner.

We had seasoned chicken with potatoes and carrots. Chris is such a good cook on an open fire. We didn't even need to use the gas stove we took.

The birds are so friendly here they come right up to you about 20cm away from you. You can feed them if you want to get your finger bitten off, nah there not that bad. We also saw Wallabies and Possums they were trying to eat our dinner with us and when we went to bed the possums tried getting into our rubbish bin cause all night we could hear tink tink tink of Chris's empty beer bottles.

DAY 2

Sat morning we had left over chicken with cheese Jaffles for breakfast and they were yummy. Chris was so excited to go on his ride this morning that he wanted to ride at 10:00am but didn't have to leave till 11:30am as he was only doing the 40k ride not the 70k. We met up with Kate's Dad Erik and the rest of the gang. I didn't go on the 40K ride today I would have not finished it as it was hard and I would not have been able to do the ride the next day. Tonight we are having a BBQ and I'm almost finished my bottle of wine hahaha didn't last long

Just sitting here waiting for Chris to get back from his ride it is now 2:40pm he has been gone for 3 hours and I am board silly to the point I've gone crazy talking to my self and my best friends the cows and the birds they are just eating all the seed I have put out for them.

I'm scared of doing this ride tomorrow as I am worried I won't be able to do it or get lost as Chris has said if I don't keep up with him he will leave me behind. The only way im going to know if I can do it is to only try as I have hardly done any training I've done some training. Im FREEZING I've got 3 layers of clothing on since I got here and slept with 3 sleeping bags as I feel the cold really bad. At 7:30 pm we had finished our dinner. Oh and I must not forget to say thanks to Burnie for her beautiful pea and ham soup. I don't eat soup but that was nice, so thanks. We went down to sit by the fire were some of the guys were and a women came over with brownies mmmm fire and brownies yum. We sat around the fire for hours, it was great. I now have a red face, sore eyes and a head ache but that's ok. I took some Advil to get rid of it. I hope I sleep ok tonight. My back ached after last night its ok now. Only one more night to go it is now 9:00pm. Time for bed. I have to be up early tomorrow morning to pack up and get ready for ride. Hope I can do it and it won't be to hard.
